President's and Chancellor's Message

Congratulations to the University of Alberta's class of 2008! For graduates, and the faculty and staff who have touched your lives, convocation is always a day to celebrate the outcome of focused study, intellectual growth and personal discovery. At this particular convocation, however, we also celebrate a historic milestone for the U of A. One hundred years ago, our first president, Henry Marshall Tory, laid the foundations of this university. At the heart of his vision were two ideals: first, that the modern university should be for the "uplifting of the whole people"; and second, that we should pursue whatsoever things are true—quaecumque vera.

These two ideals are closely linked, for as we pursue truth, we make discoveries that deepen our understanding of our relation to nature, community, and ourselves. Every day, we are inundated with all kinds of information, ceaselessly delivered via multiple media. Our ability to process this information with good judgment will grow increasingly vital in the future—and it is my hope that you will use your newly attained knowledge and skills in your lifelong exploration of the truth wherever it can be found and wherever it may lead.

Over the last century, the U of A has grown into one of Canada's leading post-secondary institutions, due, in no small degree, to the more than 275,000 U of A alumni who have embraced Tory's ideals and played an extraordinary part in building our province and nation. Today, I congratulate you as you join their ranks, and bring your own particular gifts to society.

President and Vice-Chancellor

The pomp and ceremony of convocation reflects a long tradition of celebrating achievement at university. Each of you devoted years of study and hard work to accomplish your goals and today your proud families, your friends and your teachers, recognize and salute your success. Your dedication and effort have earned our admiration and praise.

You are marking an important milestone in your life while the University marks an important one in its history. One hundred years ago, the University of Alberta was founded on a scrubby piece of riverbank by men and women who believed this province should be built on a foundation of knowledge.

At that time, our founders promised that the university would not be isolated from the world but would share its knowledge and learning with the community to serve the public good. Since those first classes back in 1908, our community has grown beyond the borders of Alberta to encompass myriad cultures, languages and traditions. Today you join more than 200,000 University of Alberta alumni worldwide who are fulfilling the promise of building a better world through education.

Learning to live peacefully and prosperously will require leaders and citizens with vision, commitment and drive. Your experiences and the knowledge and skills you have acquired during your university years will help you become those good citizens of world. We hope they also help you achieve your dreams.

Congratulations. Enjoy your success and your day of celebration.

Greetings to the Graduates

My sincere congratulations to this year's University of Alberta graduates. This is a time to celebrate your tremendous achievements and look ahead to all of the exciting possibilities that lay ahead of you.

Each of you has left your own mark on this great institution as I am certain it has on you. The many people, stories and successes of the last 100 years have helped build the character and outstanding reputation of this university. You are now part of this ongoing legacy whose influence and contributions extend throughout Alberta and abroad.

You now have an opportunity to contribute to our province with new ideas that challenge conventional thinking, new technologies that streamline processes, or new research that uncovers longstanding mysteries. This is what ensures greater economic prosperity and quality of life for Alberta and positions us as leaders of positive, innovative change.

As you celebrate with your family and friends and reflect on these past years and those still to come, I hope you will carry an insatiable passion for learning, a continued desire to grow personally and a love of discovery. It is through these things that you will find fulfillment in your life and contribute to the lives of others. That is how we prosper as people and as a society.

All the best to you in your personal and professional journeys.

Greetings from Faculty and Staff

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide a system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. To quote Honorary Degree Recipient Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

A Century of Vision

"A university is an institution for all time. It can only build soundly if it has wide vision and a far-seeing penetration. It cannot permit itself to be too seriously affected by the difficulties of the moment, whether in its spirit or its material well being. For it has a carryover value, which is one of its greatest assets: and to maintain this value a continuity of purpose is essential."

—RC Wallace, "The University of Alberta: 1908 – 1933"
(Edmonton: University of Alberta Press, 1933), p 14.

The 100-year history of the University of Alberta has been a century of vision, a vision borne out of the partnership of two ambitious men: Alexander Cameron Rutherford, the first Premier of Alberta, and Henry Marshall Tory, a McGill University professor who became the University of Alberta's first president.

Critics at the time dismissed their dream as impossible, or at best impractical, but the vision would become a reality. The passing of the University Act in 1906 by the new Government of Alberta paved the way to the official opening of the University in 1908.

The early years, under the careful guidance of Tory, who served as President of the University of Alberta from 1908 to 1928, were fruitful ones in which Tory recruited the University's first professors and organized the construction of the first university buildings, starting with Athabasca Hall in 1911. These years also saw the shadow of the First World War fall over campus life, as well as the dark spectre of the 1918 influenza epidemic. Both events took their toll on the university population, and the 1918 epidemic led to a two-month cessation of university classes and activities in the autumn of that year. Despite setbacks brought on by these events, the University emerged from these trials stronger than ever, and both building construction and population growth continued.

After a decline in both enrolment and construction through the years of the Great Depression and the Second World War, the University of Alberta enjoyed a period of expansion that lasted from 1945 to 1969. The expansion was sparked at first in the years immediately following the war's end by an influx of veterans eager to begin their civilian lives studying at university, and again in the 1960s, when the post-war baby boomers came of age to attend post-secondary school.

During this time, existing university buildings were expanded and a host of new ones built, including: the Physical Education Building, the Education Building, and Cameron Library.

The period from the 1970s to the present day has been a time of continued growth. French instruction in Arts, Science, and Education on campus found a home at the Collège Saint-Jean (since called the Faculté Saint-Jean and most recently, the Campus Saint-Jean), beginning in 1970.

In 1984, Aboriginal education was formally added to the university mandate in the form of the School of Native Studies. While construction of new buildings on campus slowed during this time, building projects started in the 1960s, like that of the Biological Sciences Centre and the Central Academic Building (CAB) were completed in the early 1970s, while older buildings like Athabasca, Pembina, and Convocation Halls, and the Arts Building were given much needed renovations throughout the late 1970s and 1980s.

In the last decade of the 20th century, the University fell under financial siege when the Government of Alberta introduced a series of cutbacks to university funding. The costs of university administration came under scrutiny, and many university faculties and departments found themselves compelled to merge in order to reduce costs while struggling to maintain a high level of educational quality for incoming students. Tuition fees were increased following the implementation of the provincial tuition fee policy in 1991, an ongoing increase that continues to generate controversy among university staff and students to the present day.

Despite these challenges, the University of Alberta continues to evolve and adopt a fresh vision for the future; one which embraces the potential of the University's many research projects to bolster the Alberta economy. This new spirit is embodied in current campus construction projects like the National Institute for Nanotechnology (NINT). This new centre of research is a symbol of partnership between the University of Alberta and the governments of Alberta and Canada, but, more importantly, it is a place that will draw new scientific talent and inventive industrial potential to the province.

Now a century strong, the University of Alberta stands as a global leader in higher education and human innovation. The idea of the university is an ongoing, ever-evolving one in Alberta; continually cultivated by some of the finest minds from Alberta, Canada, and across the world. As it casts its sights on the future, the University of Alberta continues to mark its place in history.

In the words of the University's 12th president, Dr Indira Samarasekera, "the University of Alberta should be a cauldron of new discoveries and new ideas."

U of A Centenary Stamp

In March, 2008, Canada Post issued a special stamp to celebrate the University of Alberta's centenary. The design features the cupola of the Dentistry/Pharmacy building and combines a sense of tradition with a dynamic sense of growth. "We tried to blend the physical place with the futuristic and energetic feeling of growth, chance and possibility that this institution represents," said designer Susan Mavor of Metaform Communication Design.

Former U of A president Rod Fraser first sent a request for a commemorative stamp to Canada Post's Stamp Advisory Committee in 2003, pointing out that "through hard work and an uncompromising commitment to excellence, we have become a university of importance to all Canadians and to many beyond our borders."

Our Traditions

"The modern state university is a people's institution. The people demand that knowledge shall not be the concern of scholars alone. The uplifting of the whole people shall be its final goal."

Quaecumque vera

“Whatsoever things are true”

The University Motto

Quaecumque vera, is taken from the Latin Vulgate version of the Bible, the Epistle of St Paul to the Philippians, Chapter 4, Verse 8:

De cetero, fratres, quaecumque sunt vera, quaecumque pudica, quaecumque justa, quaecumque sancta, quaecumque amabilia, quaecumque bonae famae, si qua virtus, si qua laus disciplinae, haec cogitate.

The same passage from the King James version is:

Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and there be any praise, think on these things.

The University Coat of Arms

In June 1994, His Excellency the Right Honourable Ramon John Hnatyshyn, Governor General of Canada, presented the University of Alberta with its Coat of Arms. The full Coat of Arms is displayed at ceremonial occasions such as Convocation, and is used by the Chancellor, the titular head of the University.

On the shield is a representation of the topography of Alberta rendered in the colors of the University. At the base is a prairie wheat field symbolizing Alberta's agricultural industry. The wavy gold line above suggests the hills and rivers of Alberta and, in particular, the setting of the University campus. The top of the shield is in gold and separated from the rest of the shield by a line suggesting the Rocky Mountains. The book of learning dominates the design.

On the crest is a Grand-Duc d'Amérique, or Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and an accepted symbol of knowledge. The Pronghorn, taken from the Provincial Coat of Arms, and the golden bear, mascot of the University support the shield. Both wear collars of the University colors, as does the owl. At the base of the coat of arms is a grassy mound with wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta with the University's motto: Quaecumque vera ("Whatsoever things are true").

The University Colors

The University colors were chosen in 1908 when William Hardy Alexander, a professor of Classics, described his wife Marion Kirby Alexander's idea of choosing the autumn colors of green and gold, which, are resplendent in the river valley below the University. The green also represents prairie and deep spruce forests, symbolic of hope and optimism. The gold also represents harvest fields and is symbolic of the light of knowledge.

The University Flag

The University Flag has a gold background and bears the shield of the Coat of Arms.

The University Mace

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 – 1970. It was presented by his son, Michael Galbraith, on behalf of his father on 26 May 1970.

Among its elements are: the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto encircles the staff.

The ceremonial stand for the Mace was donated in 1987 as a memorial gift by family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors 1950 – 1966.

U of A crest from the 1908 – 1909 Calendar

The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power—but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The University Ceremonial Chairs

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded-leather back is carved the University motto Quaecumque Vera together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

In 2006, a fourth chair was donated in memory and honor of Lois Elsa Hole, beloved Chancellor (1998 – 2000) and Lieutenant Governor (2000 – 2005), by Earl Evaniew, Sandra Kereliuk and their daughter Jennifer. This chair becomes part of the seating arrangements on stage, when the Lieutenant Governor or other high profile dignitaries attend the convocation ceremonies.

Our Sports Teams

Sports teams have been part of the University since the beginning in 1908. Today the U of A Golden Bears and Pandas compete in 15 sports and have captured numerous titles over the years.

The University of Alberta Cheer Song

Ring out a cheer for our Alberta

A song of praise to Varsity.

For the splendour of our mountains

Beloved University.

We will fight for thee and cheer

And ever hold thine honour dear.

Our Alma Mater U of A

Guide us on through battle gory

To a new and greater glory.

Convocation

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all Faculties. It is led by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods and caps declare, in their various designs and colors, the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. The words "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Because they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. Despite its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the tradition of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. See Academic Dress on page 19 for a detailed description of ceremonial colors.

Academic Dress

All undergraduate and master's degree gowns are the customary Cambridge shape, i.e., a gown of black material falling below the knee with full sleeves cut to the elbow and terminating in a point.

Hoods are made in the Oxford pattern of spruce green material. The Bachelor's hood has a border three inches wide of the color distinctive of the Faculty as noted below. The Masters' hood has a full lining of the color distinctive of the Faculty also noted below. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Doctorate Degrees

'Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctors' hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws (LLD), Letters (DLitt), and Science (DSc) wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.

Installation of the Chancellor

LINDA J HUGHES

Ms Linda Hughes of Edmonton, former publisher and president of the Edmonton Journal and former General Manager, Alberta Region, for CanWest Media Works, has been a leading figure in Canadian media for over twenty years and continues to be one of Canada's most influential communicators and advocates for education.

Ms Hughes was the first woman in Canada to hold the position of publisher of a major newspaper. She began her career in journalism upon graduation from the University of Victoria (1972 Honors BA) when she was hired by the Victoria Daily Times. She covered education and provincial politics, eventually becoming chief of that paper's legislature bureau. In 1976 she joined the Edmonton Journal, covering civic and provincial politics. In 1977 she received a Southam Fellowship to study at the University of Toronto. She returned to the Journal the following year and joined its editorial board. A rapid progression of newsroom management positions followed, including city editor (1981) and editor-in-chief (1987). In 1992 she was named publisher and president. In 2003 she became General Manager, Alberta Region, for CanWest Media Works. CanWest's Alberta holdings included the Edmonton Journal, the Calgary Herald and Global television stations in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge. She retired in 2006.

Ms Hughes recognizes the importance of bringing academia into the public forum so as to prepare an informed citizenship in a democratic society. Her leadership at the Edmonton Journal is proof of this recognition. Under her direction the Journal gained a reputation for excellence by increasing the reach and depth of its coverage, receiving numerous national awards for editorial writing, spot reporting, photography, arts coverage, column writing and features editing. The paper also kept issues in research and education before the public in its news reports and editorials, and provided many gifts-in-kind of publicity for educational conferences, seminars and events.

Deeply committed to her community and to public education, she is currently the Chair of the Mayor's Committee to End Homelessness in Edmonton and was chair of the board of directors of the United Way of the Alberta Capital Region. She has volunteered with many organizations including ABC Canada Literacy Foundation, the Edmonton Community Foundation, the Winspear Fund and the Mazankowski Alberta Heart Institute Strategy Council. On a professional level, she has served on the Board of Governors of the National Newspaper Awards, the Journalism Foundation of Canada and the Committee to Protect Journalists. In 2007 she spent two months as a volunteer in the Himalayan Kingdom of Bhutan, helping a daily newspaper to prepare for its role in a new democracy.

At the University of Alberta Ms Hughes has served in a number of roles. She was a member of the Board of Directors for the Centre for Constitutional Studies, she has been a member of the Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry Visiting Committee, and she chaired the University's 2001 conference on Education and Research in the New Economy. She is one of the founding members of the Norquest College Foundation, and was a member of the board of the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada from 2002 to 2008.

A recipient of numerous awards, Ms Hughes received an Honorary Degree from Athabasca University in 1997, an Honorary Diploma from Grant MacEwan College in 1999, and the Distinguished Alumni Award from the University of Victoria in 2000. In 2002 she was presented with the Trailblazer of the Year Award, a national honor given to Canadian women in communications. That same year, Alberta Venture magazine named her as one of the 50 most influential people in Alberta. She received an Honorary Degree from the University of Alberta in 2003.

Widely respected for her integrity, imagination and generosity of spirit, Ms Hughes has forged a career of exemplary accomplishment that has served as a model to students and to members of the community alike.

Congratulations Graduates

CONGRATULATIONS

Ernest Preston Manning

Mr Preston Manning is a person of vision, principle and judgment who has made a significant and lasting contribution to policy discourse in Canada and to the existing configuration of Canadian political parties. In 2007, he was appointed one of only 165 living Companions of the Order of Canada.

Mr Manning was born in Edmonton, Alberta. His family then moved to a rural community east of the city where he spent his teen years living and working on his family's dairy farm. His father, the late Ernest C Manning, served as Premier of the Province of Alberta for 25 years and as a Canadian Senator for another 12 years. Preston Manning graduated from the University of Alberta with a Bachelor of Arts in Economics in 1964. He received a Distinguished Alumni Award from the University of Alberta in 2006.

In 1987 Mr Manning formed the Reform Party, advancing principles of fiscal responsibility, social responsibility, democratic accountability and reformed federalism. His chief political advisor at the time was a young Stephen Harper, the current Prime Minister of Canada. Although all of the Reform Party's candidates were defeated in the 1988 federal election, the first Reform Member of Parliament, Deborah Grey, was elected in a federal by-election in 1989. Mr Manning was elected to the House of Commons in 1993 for the riding of Calgary Southwest, and re-elected in 1997 and 2000. Mr Manning served as Leader of the Reform Party from 1987 to 2000, as Leader of the Opposition in Parliament from 1997 to 2000, and as Opposition Critic for Science and Technology from 2000 to 2001.

After leaving politics in 2002, he became a Distinguished Visitor at the University of Calgary and the first Dean's Distinguished Visitor in Political Science and Canadian Studies at the University of Toronto. His fourth-year political science seminar at the University of Toronto dealt with Public Policy and the Genetic Revolution. He is particularly interested in bridging the communications gap between the scientific and political communities.

Mr Manning is the author of two Canadian bestsellers: The New Canada, and Think Big: My Adventures in Life and Democracy. In 2005, he founded the Manning Centre for Building Democracy to support research, education and communications initiatives designed to achieve a more democratic society in Canada guided by conservative principles. He also served as Governor General for the British Columbia Universities Model Parliament Society (BCUMP) in January 2006. He is a Senior Fellow with the Fraser Institute and the Canada West Foundation. The Right Honourable Stephen Harper appointed him to the Council of Canadian Academies in July 2007.

Throughout his career, Mr Manning has been a consistent advocate of economic, constitutional, social and democratic reform. A leading Western proponent of active social responsibility and principled coalition building, he has transformed Canadian political life.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr Ernest Preston Manning:

John Blue. Alberta Past and Present: Historical and Biographical. Chicago: Pioneer Historical Publishing Co., 1924. 3 vols.

This splendid three-volume set offers a comprehensive history of Alberta from the early explorations of the fur traders to its transformation as a rich and populous province in the early twentieth century. Provincial Librarian John Blue was inspired to write the story by his long residence in Western Canada, and he assembled an impressive historical record from the resources of the Provincial Library at Edmonton, the University of Alberta Library, and Dr A C Rutherford's excellent collection of Canadiana. The volumes are copiously illustrated and include numerous portraits of prominent Albertans and early scenes in Alberta, from Main Street in Medicine Hat to Fort Calgary at 1878. The set features a handsome frontispiece portrait of the author, lovely marbled edges, and green cloth with gilt lettering on the spines.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

CONGRATULATIONS

Bartha Maria Knoppers

Dr Bartha Maria Knoppers is one of the most influential, productive and creative academics working in the field of genetics and the law anywhere in the world today.

Dr Knoppers was born in Hilversum, Netherlands but grew up in Edmonton, Alberta. Her father, Reverend Nicholas Knoppers, was a leading figure in the establishment of King's University College. She received a Bachelor of Arts degree from McMaster University and then continued her education by completing a Masters degree in Comparative Literature at the University of Alberta, a law degree from McGill University and a Doctorate of Laws from the Université de Paris.

She holds the Canada Research Chair in Law and Medicine and the Chair d'excellence Pierre de Fermat (France). She is Professor at the Faculté de droit, Université de Montréal and Senior Researcher at the Centre de recherche en droit public (CDRP). She is a prolific author who is recognized as a world authority on the ethical aspects of genetics, genomics and biotechnology.

Dr Knoppers was a member of the International Bioethics Committee of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) which drafted the Universal Declaration on the Human Genome and Human Rights. She is also Co-Founder of the International Institute of Research in Ethics and Biomedicine (IIREB). From 2000 to 2006 she served on the Board of Genome Canada, and in 2003 became Chair of the Ethics Working Party of the International Stem Cell Forum. She has served as a member of the International Olympic Committee Switzerland, Founder of the International Consortium of the Public Population Project in Genomics, and former Chair of the HUGO (Human Genome Organization) International Ethics committee. By establishing important international networks of cooperation, she has worked to bring together scientists, ethicists and jurists.

An Officer of the Order of Canada, Dr Knoppers has received honorary degrees from universities in both Canada and France. In 2002, she was elected Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and was selected as one of the 50 nation builders in Canada by the Globe and Mail. In that same year, she was elected Fellow of the Hastings Center (Bioethics), New York, member of the International Ethics Committee of the World Anti-Doping Agency, and in April 2005, Fellow of the Canadian Academy of Health Sciences (CAHS). She was elected Governor of the Quebec Bar in 2006 and in 2007 was elected Advocatus Emeritus.

Dr Knoppers is a remarkable leader who has dedicated much of her time and energy to the development of responsible, informed and effective policy in the areas of human genetics and biotechnology. She has supported dozens of young scholars, and has served as an outstanding ambassador, positioning Canada and the Canadian legal and ethics community at the forefront of ethical, legal and social issues research.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr Bartha Maria Knoppers:

H.G. Wells. The Island of Doctor Moreau.
London: William Heinemann, 1896.

Written decades before the discovery of DNA, double helixes and the concept of genetic engineering, this is H.G. Wells' sardonic parable about science without ethics. In it he attacks scientific research run amok, research which he saw being pursued without thought and purpose. The prospect of the events on Moreau's island becoming a reality has haunted thinking scientists for decades and reinforces the important role of established ethical codes and their regulation. This is the first edition, bound in the publisher's original tan cloth, pictorially decorated in black and red.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Poetry Contest

In honor of the University of Alberta's centenary in 2008, The U of A Alumni Association sponsored a poetry contest for students in their graduating year. The theme of the contest, and the centenary, was quaecumque vera—whatsoever things are true. The following is the winning entry, submitted by Alicia C Donaldson who graduates this year with a Bachelor of Arts in English.

YOU may have first brushed me by
Under the sundial
 In early April
Your presence somewhere between
 Heart and head
 PQ to PR on the 5th floor
Always this gentle urgency guided our Love affair
We were loud and boasting those nights
In Dewey's under red glow and wine
Chests swelling souls reaching for Anywhere beyond awkward grasping
 You waited.
I walked thru snow and
Orange lamplight falling upon
 Carved acorns and Angels hidden
Alcoves of wood and red brick
 Your monuments
I passed, in the early years, unaware.
November and March were the hardest times
Stifled by incessant words
 Conflicting worlds
No peace for pause of thought
In that mess of literature and argument
I was blinded by method
Made bitter by why
 I lost you and did not care
April came once again
The snow into sparkling streams and puddles reflecting Elms
Older I stepped from classroom into daylight
Students, seekers we pushed on
No longer weary
 No longer certain faces
 Uplifted towards the sun
With a warm touch you unfurrowed my brow
Pulled me in close
 Whispered
Quaecumque vera Whatsoever things are true
Will be found here in the midst of these
 My sacred spaces.

Welcome to the Alumni Association

Because your degree is only the beginning...

As a graduate of the University of Alberta, you are part of the University's worldwide alumni family, now more than 200,000 members strong, playing leading roles in their communities and in the world. Internationally known U of A alumni include former Canadian Prime Minister Joe Clark; former World Conservation Union President Jay Hair; Nagoya University founder, the late Yuichi Kurimoto; former Alberta Premier Peter Lougheed; and Nobel Prize winning physicist Richard Taylor. All around the world, your Alumni Association can help you with services, contacts, and news from your alma mater, so stay in touch!

Exclusive Benefits and Services

As a new alumnus you're probably wondering what the Alumni Association can do for you. In short, we're here to help. We want to help you save money, keep in touch, see the world, and get all the recognition you deserve.

Save money

Go to Vegas, get your nails done, sponsor a foster child, tip your waitress, but don't overspend on insurance. As a U of A alumnus, you can get great home, auto, health, life, and dental insurance rates, so you can spend the rest of your money the way you want to.

Keep in touch

Your U of A e-mail address expires three months after graduating, so make sure you sign up for free e-mail forwarding or join the Online Community and let your former classmates know where you are and what you're doing with your degree. Visit www.ualberta.ca/alumni for more details.

Mad props!

Each year the Alumni Association recognizes some of our outstanding alumni with awards. Narrowing the field is a tough job given the caliber of all of our grads, so help us out by nominating an exceptional alumnus—like you!

Move, shake

Rub elbows with fellow U of A grads at parties, receptions and special events—it's a great way to network, keep in touch with old friends, and make new ones. The Alumni Association works with your classmates to arrange a reunion every five years, but you don't have to wait that long to reconnect—come to a happy hour “shindig,” bring a date to an alumni theatre event, or join us for coffee at an afternoon reception.

Life 101

We know the learning curve doesn't level out after graduation, which is why we offer seminars and workshops to address some of the issues that don't get covered in school.

They include:

- Debt-Management Seminars
- Income Tax Workshops
- Home-Buying Seminars
- Investment Seminars

Get out of town

The Alumni Association offers a number of travel opportunities for grads, from outdoor adventure trips in British Columbia, to luxury cruises on the Panama Canal. For the independent traveler, the Online Community includes travel advice from alumni living abroad—get in touch and get travel tips from someone who's been there!

Chapters of the Alumni Association

Chapters exist to maintain connections between alumni from specific faculties or clubs on the University campus. Volunteer opportunities exist for alumni interested in maintaining and building upon valuable university contacts through these Chapter activities. Contact can be made through the Office of Alumni Affairs.

There are alumni volunteers in more than forty communities around the world, providing social and career contacts to graduates moving to a new area. Chances are, wherever you end up after graduation, there's a branch of the Alumni Association there. If not, maybe you should start one—ask us how!
